

NATIONAL GUARD DRILL AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Rookies from U. S. Camps and Overseas to Have Chance to Distinguish Themselves

The first regular drill of Glendale Guardsmen, otherwise the Fifth Separate Infantry Company, California National Guard, of which Captain T. D. Watson is commander, and First Lieutenant Normal C. Hayhurst, second in command, will hold its first drill to night on the high school athletic field, which will be illuminated through the generosity of the city trustees, who voted $50 to defray cost of installing electric lights.

It is quite probable that a considerable crowd will assemble to witness the evolutions but those who go to enjoy the mistakes of awkward civilians will probably be considerably disappointed. True, there will be some who may get hopelessly mixed, but the company, it should be remembered, contains many rookies who have not forgotten the steps they learned in camps of the United States and overseas, and to whom the manual of arms is an old story.

Drill will be held hereafter, every Thursday evening in the same place from 7 to 8:30 p. m., and a non-commissioned officers' school the same evening from 6 to 7 o'clock.

Men who attend 60 per cent or more of the drills will be entitled to pay from the state and will also have the privilege of purchasing from the commissary department.

Following is a list of other officers and men of the company:

Command of 1st platoon, Normal C. Hayhurst.
Command of 2d platoon, Charles W. Letts.
1st Sergeant, George A. Grist.
Supply Sergeant, Homer E. Lessard.
1st Platoon Sergeant, Harold L. Alexander.
2d Platoon Sergeant, Paul J. Holland.

NIMBLE FINGERS SEWING ONCE MORE

The Nimble Fingers Club has been taking a much-needed rest after their very strenuous work of the fall and early winter.

They have resumed their activities, however, and an even dozen of them met on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Queen Danner, 1631 Garden avenue, for a session of work and pleasure combined.

A fine comfort was finished and other sewing was begun. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Florence Chadwick and the Misses Irene and Alda Gervais. A happy social hour and a refreshing collection closed the pleasant evening.

Hollywood's Track Team
Scores 58 Against 28 to Credit of Local Team

The track team of Glendale High which is being coached by Professor Alfred Cookman, had its first meet of the season with Hollywood High's team, Tuesday afternoon in Hollywood. While Hollywood's score was 58 against 28 to the credit of Glendale's team, the absence of Lefty Herman, captain of the team, should be taken into account, as he is a big factor in its record.

Among the boys who did very creditable work, was Sherwood Ball, who captured first place in the 440-yard dash, second in the 100-yard dash and ran a lap in the relay.

Norman Beggs tied for first place in the high jump and won third in the pole vault.

Horatio Butts got second in the broad jump—17 feet, 5 inches.

Du Bois was third in the mile race in a hard track.

Paul Wheatman scored second in the shotput, his distance being 37 feet.

Terzo won first in the high hurdles and second in the low hurdles.

The relay team consisted of Ball, Hill, Haig and Terzo.

Friday the team will play South Pasadena on the Glendale field and Wednesday next, Pasadena High at Pasadena.

On the 15th it will go up against the San Fernando team, but on the home field.

A vocal solo by Mrs. Hubbard was another pleasure of the afternoon.

A collection for starving China amounted to $13. As it had not been announced that a collection would be taken, this was a most creditable showing. The ladies expect to add to this next Sunday.

A social hour was enjoyed by the 30 ladies present, during which refreshments were served.

RECEIVING BRIBE IS CHARGE AGAINST DEPUTY SHERIFFS LIPPS AND ANDERSON

Accused of Accepting $12,000 from Joseph Furey, Notorious Bunco Man of City of Los Angeles

(By International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, March 3.—The new 1921 Grand Jury today returned an indictment against Deputy Sheriffs Walter W. Lipps and William J. Anderson, charging them with having received a $12,000 bribe from Joe Furey, a notorious swindler and bunco man facing trial in Fort Worth, Texas, for permitting him to escape after they had arrested him at his home in Glendale last December.

Lipps, former Chief of the Los Angeles Fire Department, was arrested in the private office of District Attorney Woolwine while the Grand Jury was voting an indictment charging the officers with "bribery and extortion."

Anderson surrendered about noon to deputies from the District Attorney's office. The indictment of the two officers was an opening move by District Attorney Woolwine in his promised exposure of the alleged protection of bunco swindlers in Los Angeles. Nearly half a million dollars was lost by victims of fake stock games last year.

A complete confession by Furey, in jail at Fort Worth, and statements by his wife, Mrs. Bede Furey of Glendale, and their 11-year-old son, Mark Furey, led to the indictment of Lipps and Anderson after an investigation which started last December in Los Angeles and which has been carried on with the utmost secrecy until today.

When they arrested Furey at his home, December 4, Attorney Woolwine alleges, Lipps and Anderson told him that for $20,000 they would allow him to escape. Furey said he agreed to their proposition and went with the officers to the Alexander Hotel in Long Beach, where they remained for two days. While they were at this hotel, Furey stated, he paid the officers $2000 in cash. Then, it is charged, Furey's son Mark was compelled to withdraw $8000 to his credit at a Los Angeles bank and deliver it to Lipps in payment for his father's release. A few days later the officers got $2000 from Mrs. Furey, it is claimed, and went with Furey to Fort Worth, where he was allowed to escape, it is alleged.

Attorney Woolwine has announced that the hotel register at Long Beach and in San Francisco, and the purchase of tickets for the northern city, together with the dining car receipts on the train, have been checked and found to corroborate the charges against Lipps and Anderson. He said: "It is an absolutely complete case against the accused officers."

W. C. T. U. OFFICERS ARE ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Marie M. Yeomans, president of the County W. C. T. U., entertained officers of that body at her home, at 113 North Orange street, the early part of the week. Representatives from Pasadena and Long Beach were present to assist in the making of plans for the coming county convention at Pasadena, which will be held April 21 and 22. Following the business session, a social hour was enjoyed and the hostess served ice cream and cake.

HUGE SUM OF BULLION MISSING

(By International News Service)
VANCOUVER, B. C., March 3.—

American postal officials are here today helping Canadian authorities to solve, if possible, the mystery of the disappearance of $20,000 in gold bullion from the registered mail of the steamship Empress of Russia. The gold was in American mail bags and was being sent from Manila to the United States.

The bullion was in one pouch, but four others had been opened and rifled. The Empress of Russia was held at Quarantine, off Victoria, for 24 hours, but it is not known whether the theft occurred there or while the vessel was en route from the Orient.

Canadian Pacific railway officials, under whose supervision the Empress of Russia operates, have issued a statement saying three gold ingots worth $7500 were taken from a mail pouch destined from Manila to the eastern part of the United States.

PLAN TO RELIEVE CONGESTION BY INTERMEDIATE

Report of Parent-Teachers' Committee Conference to Be Submitted Tonight

As a preliminary to the mass meeting to be held tonight at the Intermediate School to consider congestion in the city schools, and ways of relieving it, a conference was held yesterday afternoon at the Acacia School by representatives of Cerritos, Intermediate and Acacia Avenue Parent-Teacher Associations to consider a suggestion that a new Intermediate School be established at some point midway between the present Intermediate and Cerritos avenue.

Another suggestion that Acacia avenue school be enlarged by the building of four rooms to accommodate all grades up to and including the sixth.

It appeared to be in the minds of those present at the conference, the best method of relieving both Cerritos and Intermediate in connection with the seventh and eighth grades, and also through the enlargement of the Acacia School, a practical method of relieving over-crowded rooms in lower grades at Cerritos, Colorado and Broadway. Enlargement at Doran School, which is likewise overflowing, would also relieve Broadway by a rearrangement of district lines, and it would also relieve a threatened congestion at Central. Columbus avenue also needs more room, and Colorado is suffering for additional playgrounds.

Mr. White, Superintendent of Schools, who was invited to attend the conference, stated that the assessed valuation of the city to be reckoned with in figuring a bond issue, is $10,000,000, not including the Casa Verdugo district, and that does not include the increased valuation that will result from the great number of new buildings constructed within the past twelve months, which will affect taxable values another year.

The report of this conference will be submitted at this meeting of the Colorado P. T. A. this afternoon, and will be presented at the mass meeting at intermediate tonight.

Now that the Chamber of Commerce is ready for work and disposed to co-operate with the Parent-Teacher Associations of the city in an effort to solve the school problem, Superintendent White is very hopeful that public interest will be adequately aroused in this, the most vital question facing Glendale at the present time. He is looking for "congestion" at the meeting tonight and hopes it will be a crowded, enthusiastic affair.

Glendale Sanitarium Place of Bright Hope and Cheer

When you visit the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital you think of the word "hospital" in its derivative sense—as related to the Latin "hospes," a guest—for it is not a huge caravansary of austere aspect without and glaring white sterility within, a great pile of a building without cheer and without welcome. No, it is indeed a hospitable home to the sick, a place with an atmosphere of hope and cheer.

Every house, indeed, has its own atmosphere, and anyone sensitive to the atmosphere of places senses immediately on entering Glendale Sanitarium that its management realizes that taste and beauty of surroundings are adjuncts to their efforts in restoring the health of their patients; that restful, cheerful environment has a beneficial influence on the sick mind, longing to be led out of itself by pleasurable impression from without.

Quiet and privacy is there, to be sure; these are the natural desires of the sick, and lack of them would tend to produce mental anguish more or less acute, and decidedly inimical to health. But, after all, these are but negative conditions of healing by proper environment; no ugly or disturbing noises, no smells, no lack of privacy, no crude ugliness.

The management of the Glendale Sanitarium has demonstrated that the positive conditions, opposite to these, are even much more effective. The pleasant sounds of birds in the boughs and wind in the treetops in the grounds; the fragrance of the flowers wafted in from the gardens without; the pleasure-giving sight of grassy lawns and winding paths, the privilege of eating one's meals as soon as one is able in the large, cheerful dining room able in the large, cheerful dining room in the companionship of others, only one who has passed weary hours of illness in a hospital where "sanitary" and "cheerless" seemed convertible terms, where absence of all sounds and blank white sterility of walls held sway, can really appreciate the value of the homelike, cheery atmosphere of such a home for the sick as Glendale Sanitarium.

But while the important element of cheerful, homelike atmosphere is cherished, the all-important matters of modern, up-to-date equipment, skillful surgery, careful nursing and proper diet are, of course, given the attention due their great part in the restoration of things pertaining to the restoration of health. Indeed, so satisfied are discharged patients with every phase of their care in Glendale Sanitarium that they have sounded its praises abroad until it has become known throughout the land. Patients enter here from every section of the United States. There is today a waiting list, and even the recently completed surgical unit, dedicated less than a month ago, has not eased conditions to any appreciable degree, for the rooms made available by the removal of surgical cases to the new building are already filled.

The real object and aim of Glendale Sanitarium is not financial profit, but the helping physically, morally and spiritually of those who come there for assistance. The spirit of service that animates the institution is the thing that has made its success. Its ability to satisfy the people who patronize it, and the actual results it obtains are the things that have made it known abroad and that have stimulated its growth and expansion.

FINE PROGRAM FOR LITERARY SECTION

The literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club was entertained at the home of the curator, Mrs. A. M. Williams, 208 South Orange street, at its regular meeting Tuesday.

Mrs. C. E. Norton, who had charge of the program, read a most finished and scholarly paper on Ireland. Her handling of the subject showed careful study and much thought, and called forth intense interest on the part of her audience.

Current events were given by Mrs. W. T. Verity and Mrs. C. E. Stanley. A resume of worth-while articles was to have been given by Mrs. Katherine Hines. In her unavoidable absence it was conducted instead by her young daughter, a high school girl, in a manner so able as to evoke delighted expressions of surprise from her hearers. The ladies were astounded not only at the manner of her handling the matter but also at her having prepared it all herself without assistance.

Rollcall was responded to with an Irish story or joke by each of the 25 members present. Four guests enjoyed the program.

At the next meeting of the literary section Miss Vermilyea, a well-known public speaker, will give a talk on current events.

The literary section is looking forward with pleasure to the appearance of Mr. J. W. Foley, the poet, before the Tuesday Afternoon Club on the evening of March 18.

Tickets for this event have been placed at 50 cents and 25 cents, the club having decided not to add the war tax to these admission prices.

MOTHERS' CIRCLE ENJOYS SESSION

The Mothers' Reading Circle, which meets, at the home of Mrs. Hartley Shaw, 212 West Park avenue, will hold its meetings there hereafter on the first and third Wednesdays of the month, instead of every Wednesday.

The session held yesterday was one of interest and profit, the program consisting of the reading of a number of articles from the American Motherhood Magazine, on various subjects, followed by discussions by members of the club.

The ladies lunched together at noon as usual and a hot drink was served by the hostess.

Any mother who is interested is invited to join the circle whose sessions are held from 11 to 2 o'clock, the members bringing their own lunches.

EFFORT TO LOWER SCHOOL FIXTURE COST

One of the difficulties with which the trustees of city schools have had to contend in making funds at their disposal cover school needs has been the high cost of school furnishings. Superintendent White says: "We have been buying desks ever since last September, and the kind we used to purchase for $4 now cost $12." Other cities are having the same trouble in equipping schools and it has become so acute that school trustees of Venice have invited trustees from all the suburbs of Los Angeles to consider combining to see if they cannot get better prices. The invitation to attend a conference to consider the proposition has been accepted by the city school trustees of Glendale.

PAGEANT OF HISTORY OF JEWISH PEOPLE

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, was unable to attend the reciprocity day meeting of the Jewish Women's Council in Los Angeles yesterday. She delegated to Mesdames E. W. Kinney and Julius Kranz the pleasant task. The affair took the form of a pageant depicting the history of the Jewish people. Needless to say it was a thing of beauty and of art, carried out with exquisite finish, since it was directed by Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith.

MRS. OLIN HAS AS GUESTS J. O. C.'S

Interesting and profitable was the meeting of the R. T. W. class of the first Baptist Church on Tuesday, when they were entertained by Mrs. Rene E. Olin at her home, 400 North Isabel street.

Mrs. Fannie Jewsbury, president of the class, opened the program by calling the roll, which was responded to by scripture quotations and others, all relating to child-life. Mrs. Walter Stamps read the chapter from Elizabeth Harrison's book on child-nature pertaining to the cherishing and fostering of faith in the child. This was followed by a discussion which was participated in by each one of the large membership present.

Each member had brought some article she had made, and the ladies held a sale and sold these things to each other, realizing over $17. Good things to eat as well as attractive articles of wearing apparel were included in the things brought to this sale.

Those unfortunates who were unable to gain possession of some of the goodies were pacified by the refreshment committee's dainty collection of cake and hot chocolate.

"WOMAN'S INFLUENCE FOR BETTERMENT"

Doran Street P. T. A. held its regular meeting at the school yesterday. The outstanding feature of the meeting was an unusually fine address by Mrs. Florence Stephens, a Los Angeles attorney, on the subject of "Woman's Influence for Betterment."

At the business meeting, much interest was manifested in the mass meeting to be held this evening at the intermediate school to consider plans to relieve the crowded conditions in Glendale schools. As the Doran street school is handicapped by having six grades in four rooms, three classes each to every room, and every class full, parents of pupils attending this school are naturally deeply concerned in the solution of this problem.

MRS. GEORGE BLYTH ENTERTAINS LADIES' AID

The Ladies' Aid of the Tropic Methodist Church held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. George Blyth, 126 East Garfield avenue.

The sewing of carpet rags to be made into rugs was the work of the afternoon, and as the 34 ladies present devoted themselves to the task, the balls grew to large proportions.

Coffee and home-made cake were served by the hostess during the social hour at the close of the afternoon.

"DANGEROUS BUSINESS" AT PALACE GRAND

The Palace Grand Theater is featuring Constance Talmadge today in what is considered her greatest comedy thriller, "Dangerous Business." Admirers of "Connie"—and they are many—will be sure to enjoy this comedy hit. "Out for the Night," makes this program an unusually bright and happy one.

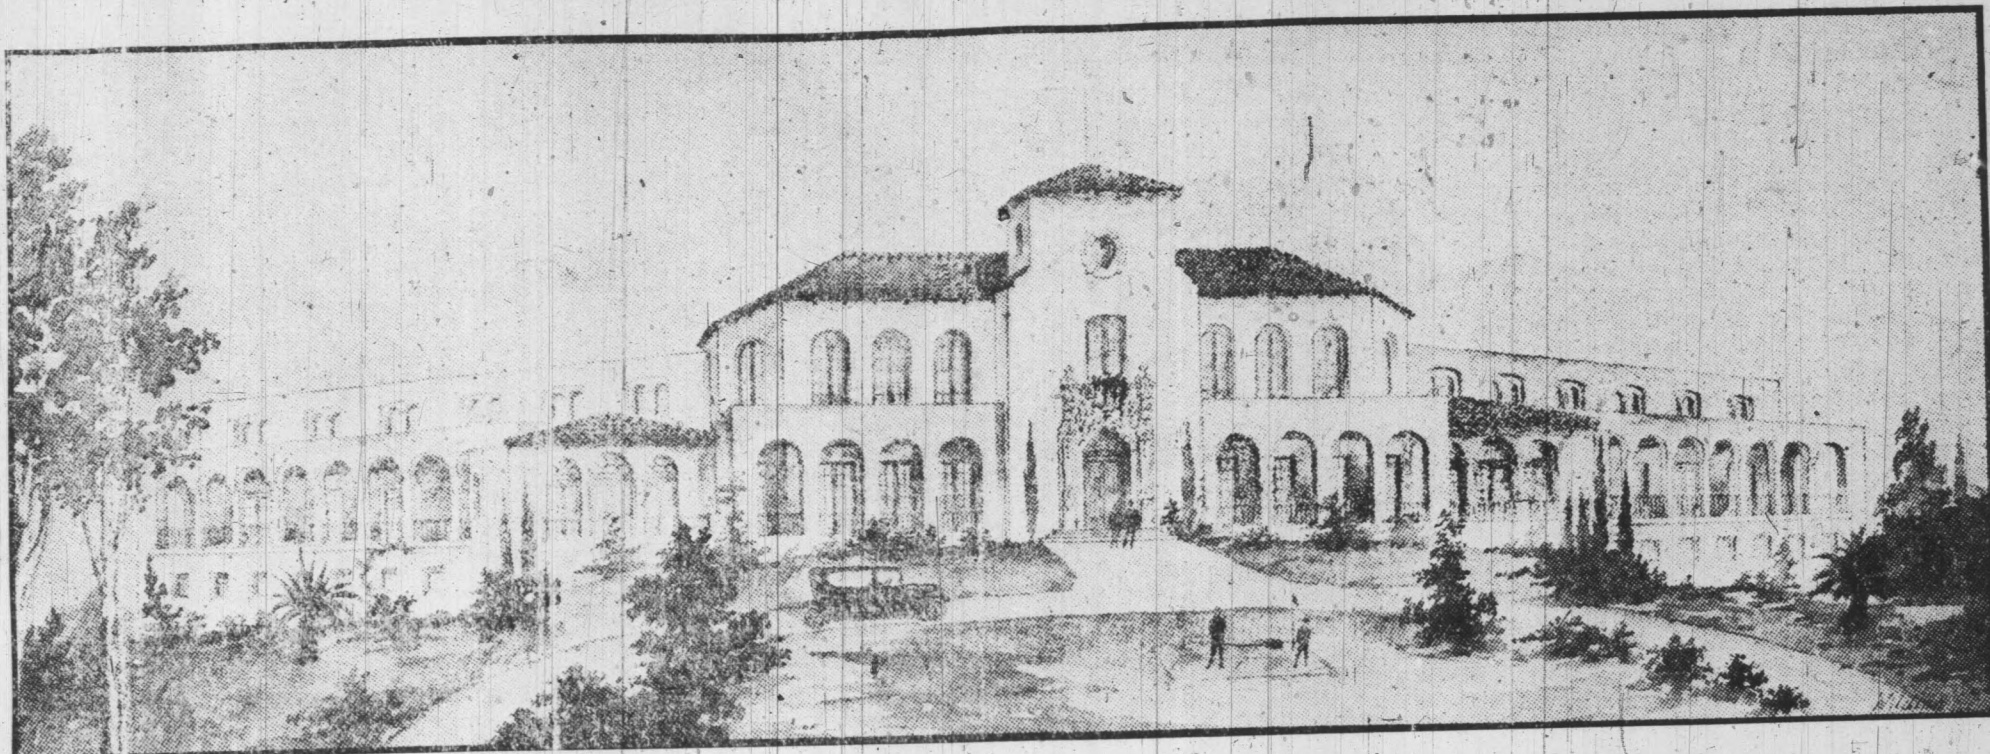

The same program is featured for tomorrow's performance at the Palace Grand.

$30,000 FOR AUTO PARKING LOT

(Special to the Daily Press). PASADENA, March 3.—The Jensens have bought a $30,000 lot for auto parking purposes adjoining their new Raymond Theater in this city. Their theaters, in addition to the Palace Grand in Glendale, are two in Pasadena and the Los Angeles Theatatorium.

Mrs. Jennie L. Darling and daughter, Miss Gulla, of Lincoln, Neb., arrived Monday and will be the guests of her brother, J. M. Lovell, and family of 505 North Maryland avenue. They expect to remain here several weeks. They have been visiting relatives at various points on their journey Westward.

SUNSET CANYON COUNTRY CLUB PLANS BEAUTIFUL CLUBHOUSE WITH MANY UNIQUE FEATURES

Aims and Objects of the Club

The organizers of the Sunset Canyon Country Club, with offices 1230 Marsh-Strong Bldg., Los Angeles, have formulated plans for one of the most unique country clubs in the United States. The property contains about 1217 acres and is situated in the Verdugo Mountains between Glendale and Burbank.

In addition to a magnificent clubhouse, designed by H. H. Whitley, one of Los Angeles' most noted architects, famous for his many Mission design homes in Southern California, probably the most unique feature of this club is the cabin site privilege allowed each member.

The club is purely social and athletic, there being provision made for golf, tennis, swimming, hiking as well as horse-back riding. The golf course has been designed by Mr. William Watson, the designer of the Chicago, Detroit, Boston and California Country Club links. Mr. Watson says that of all the golf links he has designed, the Sunset will be the sportiest of them all.

The Club House

The clubhouse is to follow the Spanish Mission style of architecture. The central portion of the building, which will be 100 feet by 50 feet, will be used as a ballroom or lounging room, while the left wing will be devoted to card rooms, music room, private and main dining rooms, serving pantries, kitchen with ladies' lockers in the basement. The right wing will be used for pool and billiards, bowling allies, smoking rooms and grill with the men's lockers in the basement. The upper portion of the building will be provided with sleeping rooms for members and their guests. Wide verandas will extend along both wings of the building, giving a broad outlook over the mountains, the golf course and many miles of the beautiful San Fernando Valley.

Cabin Sites Allotted Members

Each Member Will be Allotted a Cabin Site

provided he builds upon it. The location of these sites will depend upon the amount of money a member will invest in the cabin, the size of the lots being ample for a cabin of several rooms. Upon moving away or leaving the club a member will have the right to transfer his cabin to another member or his membership and cabin to an outsider who is acceptable to the membership committee. There will be a small charge made for electricity, water, fuel and any county or state taxes assessed, but no charge for the land as the monthly dues will cover this item. Water has already been piped the entire length of the canyon and merely needs connection to serve the cabins.

A Children's Playground---Other Features

Trails will be built to the highest peaks where deer lodges will be erected and camps established at various points. These trails will be used for horse-back riding as well as hiking. The view from these peaks is beyond description. One can see the entire San Fernando Valley, as well as Los Angeles, Hollywood, Universal City, Fullerton oil fields, the ocean and on a clear day Catalina Island.

A CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUND WILL BE BUILT in the "Indian Village," which is situated about 300 yards from the mouth of the canyon. This playground will contain toboggan slides, swings and many other amusements necessary for the entertainment of the kiddies while parents are golfing, hiking or entertaining at the clubhouse. Capable lady attendants will be in charge at all times.

A commodious log cabin will be erected in the center of the children's playground where tea will be served and rest rooms provided. The present natural beauties of this spot will be maintained as near as possible.

A large swimming pool is to be built in the rear of the clubhouse, while tennis courts and croquet grounds will be in the front of the building.

LONG TERM LEASE ON PROPERTY WITH OPTION TO PURCHASE

The lease on this 1217 acres runs for a period of 35 years and the club is given the option to purchase at any time within ten years at $132 per acre. The dues the first year are $1.35 per month and thereafter they are not to exceed 80 cents a month. The membership fee at the present time is only $60.00 but will be increased at the discretion of the governing board. By the time the building is completed this fee will be raised to $500. Anyone can see that at the end of ten years the grounds would be fairly valued at one million dollars when the wonderful growth of Los Angeles and suburban cities whose future is now assured is taken into consideration. The land holdings of this club will be from six to ten times as large as the average golf club and if the property is purchased at the end of ten years, the whole 1217 acres would cost a great deal less than the land cost of the average golf club in California at present.

Glendale Citizens Endorse Club

More than one-hundred of Glendale's leading citizens have become members of the Club and there is still an opening for others to avail themselves of the opportunity of affiliating themselves with this most unique Country Club situated right at our door.

THE REMEDY

Students of present social conditions note that the perpetrators of dire deeds in the wave of crime sweeping over the country are almost all young men and older boys. But this is not a new fact in criminal history. Prison records for many years past show the great majority of crimes, particularly robbery and crimes of violence, to have been committed by young men.

The new phase of the present situation is the excess of crime and the recklessness of it, the increase in irresponsibility and the lack of respect for the lives and property of others. This phase indicates defective education; not defective education of the mind, but defective education of the moral life of the young.

Students of social problems are saying that the rising generation must have new ideas; that present standards have proven insufficient to keep the young in the paths of righteousness. While these advocates of new ideals glibly assert that present ideals are not developing the spiritual natures of our young people, so far not one of them has suggested a program of better ones.

The truth of the matter is, there are no higher ideals. There is nothing lacking in the old standards. The fault lies in our failure to cherish them and to foster their great import in the hearts of our children. The old standards of conduct—the Ten Commandments, upon which foundation the laws of our land rest—have there ever been higher ones? Have not the lives of noble men from the days of Moses down to those of Lincoln and Roosevelt been built upon them? No higher ideals for human conduct exist than these. It is because we have been lax in inculcating them in the minds of the young of the present generation that we are suffering now from the wanton insensibility to law and order and decency on the part of so many young people.

No youth who robs a store or holds up a pedestrian or steals an automobile or kidnaps a woman or a baby has these standards. It is because he hasn't them, because he hasn't a working knowledge of the Ten Commandments that he does that sort of things. In so far as we have ourselves failed to live up to these fundamental laws, to exemplify them in our daily lives, and above all, to instill them into the minds of the children of our families and of other children wherever possible, we ourselves are responsible for the lack of ideals which the sociologists cite as the cause of the great increase in crime among the young.

The remedy is not far to seek. We know the true standards, and we have had demonstrated to us the results of departure from them and of failure to make a knowledge of them a part of the very life of our children in the years when their characters are forming. Let us get back to the only right foundation for the individual character. Right instruction and the right atmosphere for the young in the plastic years when their characters are forming are necessary that this foundation may be laid. The home first of all, and most of all, should furnish this instruction and this atmosphere. It is next to impossible to lay this foundation without proper teaching and favorable moral atmosphere in the home. Besides the home influence, every school, public and private, every college, every university, every organization dealing with young people should consider character forming, on this proper foundation, as the object of its existence. We are making much in our schools these days of vocational training. This in well, indeed; but it is even more important to teach our children to live than to teach them to make a living.

We have many organizations striving to supplement the home in character forming, or to substitute for lack of home training along this most important line. These need the support of every good citizen who realizes the importance of the work they have undertaken. Every school should be much more of a factor in character-building than it is today. It cannot increase its influence in this line, however, unless there is a return to the old ideals.

Most of all we need the revivifying of the home influence, which has become so weakened by the allurements of our fast modern life. We need sorely the "home and fireside" influence. Time was when the home was the center of entertainment for the whole family. Today everyone in the family, from grandmother to the small children, seeks his pleasures outside the home; what more natural than that this state of affairs should result in a weakening of the home influence, a lessening of its authority in the teaching of standards of character and the gradual substitution of lawlessness and disorder in the minds of the young and inexperienced?

SELLING ORANGES IN PECK BASKETS

Glendale Citizen, When Young Illinois Grocer, Started This Innovation

It is stated that a new method of orange packing to save the cost of wrappers and wrapping is being tried out at some of the big packing houses and that is the putting up of the golden fruit in bushel baskets and not wrapping it. The first carload of 400 baskets was shipped East a few days ago. How fruit dealers will take to the innovation of selling oranges by the bushel and peck remains to be seen, but we do know that it was tried out most successfully a few years ago by an Illinois grocer, now a resident of Glendale. When young, "Ed Peters," as our dignified and successful merchant, real estate man and builder was called by the citizens of his home town, Mount Carmel, Ill., opened a grocery store where apparently there was no opening, the wiseacre and particularly the old-fogy grocers of Mount Carmel prophesied failure in a very short time. But the young business man, who had never yet fallen down on any job he had undertaken, went serenely on his way, introducing snappy and trade-drawing methods that made the old staggers open their eyes and drew to his store many customers. Oranges were then very high priced and considered a luxury by most people. The young merchant conceived the idea of selling them, not by the dozen or one, but by measure, as apples were sold. So he arranged with a commission firm in a nearby city to supply him with so many boxes a day of the 300 size oranges, 40 cents a peck. They sold largely and gave the new store a prestige which made it the leading grocery of the city.

INTERMEDIATE GIRL ATHLETES

Excellent Records Are Being Made in the Track Schedule This Week

A track schedule is on this week among the boys and girls of Intermediate. The event Tuesday noon was indoor throw and Miss Sinclair is quite proud of the records made by the 8th grade girls under her. For these events each class is entering two contestants except in relay races where eight entries are permissible. The Tuesday winners of the 8th grade were Frances Sylvia, 1st, with a 111-foot throw; Jean Robinson, 2nd; Consuelo Mireno, 3rd. Today's event was to be in-door throw for accuracy. Monday the girls competed for accuracy in basket ball throw, the honors going to Alexandria Bagley, Margery Temple and Eula Linkogel in the order named. In the chinning contest which took place Friday, Gratia Bolivia was first, Esther Edmonds, 2nd, Frances Sylvia, 3rd. An over and under relay race has been held the A. 8-3 girls winning both. Seventh grade records were not turned in except for in-door throw on Tuesday in which Lois Wardell was placed first, Esther Stanley, 2nd, Bernice Collins, 3rd. Points are carefully recorded and the contestant who secures a credit of ten points wins an Intermediate Athletic Certificate.

THE KID'S VIEWPOINT

FIFTH BIRTHDAY OF READING CIRCLE

Big Attendance at Luncheon and Fine Anniversary Program At City Library

The bonds which year by year more strongly unite in interest and affection the members of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle, founded five years ago by Mrs. Charles H. Toll, were strengthened when they assembled to celebrate the birthday of the organization Tuesday at the City Library.

The first business of the day was, of course, the luncheon served by Mrs. Hoyt and a corps of able assistants, which was enjoyed as these functions always are and which ended with the response to roll call, each guest giving a quotation.

The formal meeting was called to order about 11:30 a. m. by Mrs. A. A. Barton, chairman of the circle, who introduced Mrs. Reed Heustis as program chairman for the day. She, in turn, introduced Mrs. Danford, City Librarian, who gave a hearty greeting and welcome. The Madrigal Club, directed by Mrs. Charles A. Parker, then gave some chorus numbers—"The Call" and "Nursery Rhymes," for an encore singing "Kathleen Mavourneen." Never has this chorus sung better than it did Tuesday in the congenial atmosphere of the circle, to which so many of the singers belong.

Next came a talk by Mrs. Kemper Campbell, who spoke in no uncertain terms relative to juvenile court work, in which she is greatly interested. She made it clear she does not approve the Juvenile Court as now run, and declared the law regulating it should be amended.

The program provided for the presentation at this point of five roses, each symbolizing a year of Reading Circle work, to the founder, Mrs. Charles Toll, who fully expected to be present. These were to have been bestowed by Mrs. Burr, Mrs. Stofft, Mrs. A. H. Brown, Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs. McGill, with a verse which each lady was to recite. But, alas, a critical state of affairs at the City Library at Ventura made it necessary for Mrs. Toll to visit that city Tuesday instead of attending the circle's birthday party. The verses were recited by the ladies named and copies were to accompany the flowers to be sent to Mrs. Toll's home. Many were the expressions of regret over her absence, as she is much beloved and the birthday was not perfect without her.

Mrs. C. H. Pendleton gave much appreciated piano numbers, graciously responding to the call for an encore.

An unusual program contribution which especially entertained was made by Mrs. Louise Pinkley, a professional who is a friend of Miss M. C. Merritt of this city. Mrs. Pinkley, in association with her husband, was for 20 years at the head of a college of oratory and music in Cincinnati, Ohio. Her selections were all the work of Edgar Guest, the poems inspired by his own little son, and pleased her audience greatly. She closed with a tribute to the poet, saying she had been told he is a small man in stature, but she knew he was big in other ways; that if his soul is as large and far-reaching as his poems give us the impression it is, he is a wonderful man. While she admitted the possibility he may not be given a place with the great poets of the world, she was sure he would never be forgotten.

The program closed with vocal solos by Mrs. Charles A. Parker, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Wright. Mrs. Parker's selections were "Wake Up," by Phillips; "Madcap Marge," by Norton, and "Sylvia," by special request as an encore.

Mrs. A. A. Barton then announced guests of honor invited for the day, the list including Mrs. Noble, national chairman of Congress of Mothers and P. T. Associations; Mrs. Gray, state vice president; Mrs. Eckhart, leader of Alhambra Reading Circle; and conveyed messages of congratulation received from Dr. Jessie Russell, Mrs. Hartley Shaw, leader of the Park Avenue Reading Circle, and from the circle just organized in Pasadena, which is to have its first meeting next Tuesday.

LOST EL DORADO BEING SOUGHT

Tale of Old Indian of Rich Gold Mine in Deep Canon Leads Many to Plan Search This Summer

(By International News Service)
CRAIG, Colo., March 3.—Is there another Eldorado in one of the numerous but almost inaccessible canyons of western Moffat county, close to the Utah border line?

This is the burning question that is on the lips of scores of Craig residents, following vague intimations that the discovery of a rich deposit of placer gold in one of these deep canyons has already resulted in the death of at least two persons.

The countryside around Duchesne, Utah, is also aroused over the story revealed here, and many oldtime prospectors are expected to trek the treacherous territory surrounding "Dead Man's Ledge," below the junction of the Yampa and Greene rivers this summer in search of the reported gold ledge.

A little heap of bones and fragmentary snatches of an old Indian's tale, are the only known facts of the story of the reputed strike of rich gold ore and a death fight with desperadoes—a story that reads like a chapter of fiction of the early West.

While exploring a steep cliff in Pool Canyon, less than two miles below Yampa and Greene rivers, Harry Chew, discovered a human skull exposed to view by the erosion of rocks that covered it. He dug into a large pile of loose rock and debris and brought to light sufficient human bones to construct two complete skeletons.

Later, Pete Madison, a prospector, came to the Chew ranch from Duchesne, Utah. Madison was looking for a rich deposit of placer gold, the approximate location of which had been told him by an aged Unaiut Indian. Madison tramped the canyons of the Greene and Yampa streams, but was never able to find the gold. He declares he will make further efforts this summer to locate the "lost Eldorado."

Madison had been able to get only a disconnected story from the old Unaiut Indian, who said that two white miners, with an escort of Indians, spent an entire winter in the Pats Hole section of Moffat county. The Indian who told the tale said he was one of the escort. All winter the miners worked at crude sluices, washing gold from the rich sands. By spring they had secured a large quantity of the precious yellow metal, estimated by the Indian to be about 25 pounds.

Taking their winter's cleanup, the party started West for a small Mormon settlement, to replenish their supplies. They had gone but a short distance when they were set upon by a band of desperadoes and outlaws. The two miners backed in a ledge and gave fight, while the four Indians fled.

Both the miners were killed by the outlaws, the Indians told Madison, and the bodies partially covered by prying off part of the ledge.

U. S. TROOPS NOT TO FORCE GERMANY

(By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 3.—There are no plans for participation by United States troops in any steps the Allies may take to force Germany to accept the indemnity terms, it was stated at the State Department today. The American forces in Germany are there under the terms of the armistice, it was stated, and the further use of troops by the Allies is a matter which the United States is not at present concerned with.

GERMAN DELEGATES TO "STAND PAT"

Reparations Cut Down by Delegation to $7,500,000,000 Refused

(By International News Service)
LONDON, March 3.—The German delegation attending the indemnity conference has been ordered by the Berlin government to "stand pat" upon the counter-proposals tendered Monday—that Germany's future reparations be cut down to 30,000,000,000 gold marks ($7,500,000,000).

Announcement to this effect was made this morning by the German delegation.

Dr. Walter Simons, the German foreign minister and head of the German delegation, was in direct telegraphic communication with the German government and his new instructions were received during the course of these conversations.

Members of the German delegation said that they would inform the Allies tomorrow that they cannot consider any alteration of the amount of indemnity which Germany proposes to pay. The Germans said that they took the position that only changes in the method of payment could be discussed.

Germany, in her counter-proposals, offered to pay 30,000,000,000 gold marks ($7,500,000,000) in the next 30 years, but the Germans contended that they had already paid the Allies 20,000,000,000 gold marks ($5,000,000,000), thus bringing their total reparations up to 50,000,000,000 gold marks ($12,500,000,000). The Allies had demanded 226,000,000,000 gold marks ($56,000,000,000) and a tax of 12 per cent upon German exports.

SEVERE FIGHTING IN RUSSIAN PORTS

British Foreign Office Has No Confirmation of These Reports

(By International News Service)
LONDON, March 3.—The British foreign office was today without confirmation of reports of violent fighting between soviet troops and insurgent workmen at Petrograd and Moscow.

Foreign office officials were skeptical of the reports.

According to the Helsingfors correspondent of the Central News, the Kronstadt garrison has joined the insurgent workmen. The Central News dispatch follows:

"There is fighting in several parts of Russia, the worst being in Petrograd and Moscow. Thirty thousand strikers drove the soviet troops across the city of Petrograd. The fighting was most sanguinary. The soviet command rushed up reinforcements to save the survivors. The Kronstadt garrison has joined the rebels."

The following Exchange Telegraph dispatch was received from Helsingfors:

"The Finnish general staff has received confirmation of a revolution in Petrograd. Many persons have been killed in severe street fighting. Several quarters of the city are in the hands of the rebels. There is much looting."

$20,000 IN GOLD BULLION IS STOLEN

(By International News Service)
VANCOUVER, B. C., March 3.—Twenty thousand dollars in gold bullion in the registered mail of the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia has been stolen, according to information obtained here today on the arrival of the vessel from the Orient.

Great secrecy was maintained by officers of the ship regarding the missing gold and none would officially confirm or deny that the bullion is gone.

OUR SCHOOLS AND OUR CHILDREN

"Come, Let Us Live With Our Children"—Eroebel

The B first graders and the A first graders at the Acacia avenue school looked up politely with a silent greeting when the visitor from The Daily Press stepped into their classroom yesterday. And then they went on with their work. They are used to visitors and, besides, they are too interested in their own absorbing business to be either self-conscious or idly curious about visitors.

It's fun to learn to read and write, and there's a fascination in feeling the sense of growing power and increasing capacity that comes with learning new things every day. For this reason these tiny tots worked with patience to make the letters just so in the writing lesson, strove with all their little might to master the new words in the reading lesson and took the utmost pains with their number work.

There are other incentives to earnest work, too, besides a child's natural healthy craving to know things. No child in the B first grade or the A first grade of the Acacia avenue school wants to be outdistanced by his fellows; indeed, no! Each one showed that he had a proper pride in that respect; and another thing, not a first grade child in the Acacia avenue school would grieve dear teacher, who is his good friend and works with him and plays with him—such a thing is not to be thought of!

All of which is only another way of saying that these little children manifest a proper school spirit.

At the end of each hour there is a short period of rest and relaxation, devoted to physical exercises—though to the children it is merely an interesting game, in which one stretches up to see how very, very tall one can make one's self, and how far one can stretch one's arms out sideways, and how high one can jump; and then there's an amusing part where one "plays p'tend," to make a cake, stirring it briskly and thoroughly, and stooping down carefully to slide it into the oven; then everyone tiptoes carefully and back to his clear around the room and back to his own seat—one must always tiptoe when one has a cake in the oven, lest a jar from a heavy footstep cause it to "fall."

When they sat quietly in their chairs after this exercise, rested and refreshed, all eyes on dear teacher, to see what interesting thing was coming next, so wonderfully pure and intelligent and wholesome was the spirit that shone forth from each little bright face that there came to the mind of The Daily Press visitor the lines of the poet, Heinrich Heine, who must have been looking at a little child like one of these when he wrote them:

Thou'rt like unto a flower,
So pure and fair and dear;
I gaze on thee—thy beauty
Brings to mine eyes a tear.

And, moved by thine innocent sweetness,
I place my hand on thy hair,
Praying the dear God to keep thee
So dear, and pure, and fair.

There's a surprise in store for every mother of a first grade child in the Acacia street school. It may be a secret—but we can't help mentioning the pretty little basket of brown and green raffia each child is weaving for mother.

Even if mother knows about it, she'll be surprised when she sees it, so tasteful are the designs and so neat and exact is the workmanship. Mother will be proud to keep her spoils or her buttons in this basket.

MISS LUSBY HONORED BY PHILATHEANS

At the home of Miss Dorothy Hamilton members of the Philathea Class of the First M. E. Church were entertained Tuesday evening for their regular meeting, but the meeting departed from the ordinary in that there was no business session and Miss Margaret Lusby, in recognition of her approaching nuptials, was the guest of honor. As usual, a cafeteria supper was served, followed by a social evening of games and music. In playing one of the games numbered slips bearing two lines of a four-line verse were distributed, slips on which the other two lines were printed and carrying a corresponding number were hidden. Miss Lusby's search led her not only to the missing lines but also to an elaborately wrapped package containing an electric percolator, the gift of the class. About thirty-five were present, Mrs. C. D. Lusby being a special guest. Miss Hilda Isaac is president of the class and Mrs. T. W. Wright is teacher.

BILL AIMED AT JUDGE LANDIS FAILS

(By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 3.—Consideration of the bill reported by the Senate Judiciary Committee, providing that Federal judges shall engage in no other occupation, was blocked in the Senate today by Senator Poindexter, Republican, of Washington. The bill was aimed at Judge Landis of Chicago.

CLOSE ON TRAIL OF MAIL ROBBERS

Amount Stolen Estimated at Between $20,000 and $25,000

(By International News Service)
OAKLAND, Cal., March 3.—Police and postal inspectors believed today they were close on the trail of three bandits who late Monday night held up and wrecked a United States mail truck and escaped with the contents of six registered mail pouches. Early unofficial estimates placed the amount of the loot at between $20,000 and $25,000.

The three bandits, in a stolen automobile, drew alongside the truck at Sixteenth and Adeline streets and two of them leaped to the running board of the mail truck. Aubert Renard, driver, and Miss Lois Williams, who was riding with him, were threatened with death unless they complied with the orders of the bandits. Renard denied having a key to the mail compartment and the trio drove the truck to Nineteenth and Adeline streets, where they ran it off a high platform. The truck was wrecked, but the steel compartment held intact.

Aubert was then threatened with instant death unless he produced the key. He finally gave in. The bandits displayed knowledge of the number of registered pouches carried by the truck.

The smallest dolls in the world are said to be those made in Cuernavaca, Mexico.

Liberty Four Passenger

The appearance of the Liberty Four Passenger needs no complimenting. And the quality of its performance is quite a sufficient proof of its mechanical goodness.

The body is of the straight line design, smart and business-like, with beveled edge and square back tonneau—a pleasing contrast to the conventional curves. Skillful designing has provided seating capacity for four persons with room to spare.

The windshield is set at an angle that fully harmonizes with the lines of the car. The style and slope of the top is in perfect accord. There is a rear curtain light of beveled glass, mounted in a heavily nickeled rim. Special holders support the top when lowered. The instrument board is finished in circassian walnut. The door handles are in nickel plated metal in a tasteful design. And the further equipment of the car is thoroughly adequate and entirely in keeping.

Every unit of the LIBERTY Chassis is both standard and oversize for the weight of the car. We have a car ready for your inspection.

BUILDING PERMITS FOR PAST 11 YEARS

Total Value $7,332,254—Nearly Half of Which Was For Last Year

Glendale became a city in 1906, joining her on the south was Tropic, known far and wide for her great strawberry fields, from which the luscious fruit was shipped all over the Southland. Glendale was then little more than a village, with something like 2000 souls. In 1910 she began making overtures to her neighbor on the south and suggesting that two such comely maidens should merge their identities and become one. She was rebuffed most decidedly. Then Glendale tried to take a three-cornered slice 'out of Tropic'—that section bounded by Brand, Glendale avenue and Tenth street, as it then was. This failed, also, as did a later attempt to annex the entire city. Then, after Los Angeles tried the same stunt and failed most ignominiously, Tropic came in of her own accord and with a decided majority.

The year 1909 seems to have been the first one to require permits for buildings or, if this was not so, no records were kept of those issued, for in that year we find the first mention of them. And the total for the 12 months was $218,658. He who would have predicted at that time that just 11 years later, after over four years of the most awful war the world ever knew, little old Glendale, girded round by God's eternal hills, would be known far and wide as the fastest growing residence city in the world, with a building record of more than $3,000,000, would have been considered a wild dreamer.

Then there was not a single sales garage in the city and the Ford was the only auto sold. Now there are 15, some of them of almost palatial proportions, with another 50x150, that of C. A. Wishart & Son, at 231 South Brand, under construction, besides many large buildings devoted to auto repairing and the sale of accessories, as well as two score or more oil stations.

Every other line of business has shown a proportionate gain. We have our own dry goods, clothing, shoe and furnishings stores that would do honor to a city of 50,000 people; nearly half a hundred grocery stores and more coming, two daily newspapers and about every other line of business that could be conceived of. Glendale is becoming known as an industrial city, also, and its growth in that line is bound to be rapid. All these new lines of business require new buildings, hence the wonderful increase in the number and size of the building permits.

But it is as a residence city that Glendale is most widely known, and in this respect her fame is known in every nook and corner of the country. Apparently more than a thousand residences were built last year and 124 have been commenced so far this year, costing from $500 to $15,000.

A comparison of the building permit valuation for the past 11 years may be instructive, so we append below a list of them. The lowest amount in any month was $75 in January, 1919, just after the world war closed, and the highest was in August, 1920, the amount being $517,000—the fifth largest in the State and the ninth in size on the Pacific Coast. Following is the list:

1910	345,315
1911	416,210
1912	669,556
1913	646,727
1914	464,920
1915	222,405
1916	235,907
1917	287,360
1918	97,183
1919	591,439
1920	3,187,264

REHEARSAL FOR K. OF C. CONCERT

Wednesday morning the Madrigal Club, of which Mrs. Charles A. Parker is the director, had a rehearsal in the Central Building of the program it is to give for the Knights of Columbus on March 17. It also rehearsed numbers for its own program to be given in April.

Residences Occupied As Soon

Changing Hands

Residences are being completed every day—several of them—and nearly all are occupied as soon as completed, the others being held for sale. The record of completions for the past two days is as follows: George J. Bayless, 314 Magnolia; K. Albin, 9342 Concord; H. E. McCartney, 510 North Jackson; L. W. Maston, 1107½ East Broadway; Mrs. A. F. Haward, 434 Hawthorne; A. Stubbs, 1542 Lorraine; J. O. Corliss, 235 North Verdugo road; S. G. White, 1107 East Broadway.

Besides this wonderful activity in the building of new residences many others are changing hands. C. W. Ingledue has sold his fine home at 411 North Central to Mrs. Jeannette F. Rand, wife of Dr. Howard F. They have been living at 526 East Palmer, but are moving into the new home. Real estate is moving quite rapidly again, and it is confidently predicted that another month will see lively times again, much like last year. Judge Harry F. Miller, 114 East Broadway, is feeling the impulse of the renewal movement, so has put on two new salesmen, William H. Sullivan, late with Harper & Craig, and Dr. D. F. Rae of 316 Milford, who came here from Oregon a year or more ago.

MUSICAL BY STUDENT BODY

The "Chimes of Normandy," Robert Planquette's tuneful opera, which is beloved of the older generation of music lovers, is to be given by the student body of the Glendale High School on March 9, 10 and 11.

The scenes of the opera are laid in Northern France, in the seventeenth century. The music is bright and attractive and the plot abounds in comic situations. The "Chimes of Normandy" is one of the standard light operas. Its performance on this occasion is staged by the music and dramatic departments of the high school. The costumes are under the supervision of the sewing department; the staging and lighting effects are supervised by Albert Hewitt and C. G. Farrow; Paul Holland has charge of the stage properties.

The cast comprises the membership of the two glee clubs and numbers about 60. Rehearsals are going forward with vim and enthusiasm, and the affair promises to be one of the musical events of the year in Glendale. The cast follows: Serpolette, Marie Oliver; Germaine, Dorothy Pearl; Gertrude, Myra Johns; Jeanne, Mildred Stanford; Manette, Mary Florence Pate; Suzanne, Marian Grey; Henri, Marquis of Cornville, Tom McNary; Jean Grenicheux, Will Farmer; Gaspar, Brigham Bennett; the Bailly, Joe Rhodes; Registrar, Warren Meeker; Assessor, Walter Cole; Notary, Kenneth Jackson.

Movie stars, who show their versatility by taking the part of two characters in a play, have nothing on the last-named young man in the cast. Kenneth is going 'em one better; he takes three parts in the opera. Admission to the matinee on Wednesday afternoon, March 9, at 3:30, is 25 cents; no seats are to be reserved at the matinee. Admission to the two evening performances, Thursday and Friday evenings, March 10 and 11, is 50 cents and the seats are all reserved. The ticket sale opens Thursday morning at the high school.

RED CROSS PLANS A SEWING BEE

A group of Red Cross workers met at the home of Mrs. H. E. Bartlett on North Brand boulevard today from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., to sew upon layettes provided by the Glendale Chapter to be sent abroad to relieve the nakedness of infants in Middle and Eastern Europe. An effort is being made to hold these gatherings at which the ladies visit while they sew, the first and third Wednesdays of each month. Mrs. Bartlett, the chairman, states that all workers will be welcomed whether they are members of the Red Cross or not, as the need is urgent.

"RAMONA" IS AT GLENDALÉ THEATER

Helen Hunt Jackson's immortal story, "Ramona," featuring Monroe Salisbury, is the treat in store at the Glendale Theatre today. Everyone who has read Mrs. Jackson's beautiful story of the California Indian will want to see this picture; and everyone who hasn't read it will be equally desirous of seeing it, to learn the story from its excellent picturization. The latest Pathe News, a good comedy, "Trouble Bubbles," and "It's Apple Blossom Time in Normandy," played in Mme. Clement's greatest theatre organ, are added attractions. Tomorrow's program features Frank Mayo in "Honor Bound."

SELECTED RECIPES

SWEET POTATOES

Bake medium sized potatoes. When they are soft, cut in two lengthwise and scoop out the inside with a spoon. Put it through a potato ricer, and have butter, salt, pepper and enough thick cream to moisten. Whip with a fork until light and fluffy, refill the skins, heaping the potatoes into rough little mounds and bake a light brown. A marshmallow baked on top of each makes them delicious.

WOODFORD PUDDING

Three eggs, one teaspoonful of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of butter, one and one-half teaspoons jam or preserves, one teaspoonful of soda, dissolved in one teaspoonful of soul milk, cinnamon and nutmeg to taste.

Mix all well together and bake slowly in a pudding dish. Bake in oven as for loaf cake. Serve with hard sauce made as follows:

Two parts of pulverized sugar to one part of butter. Cream the butter and add sugar gradually until very light. Flavor with lemon juice or nutmeg.

CABBAGE RECIPES

Since the cabbage family has risen to the dignity of the pound-sales class, many of us need an introduction—we meet the members so seldom in their old haunts. "Cabbage, the head of the family, is perhaps the widest known of any garden vegetable. In fact, it enjoys a cosmopolitan reputation. In each country there are special methods for its preparation. The Columbus Dispatch prints several which are well worth trying for American approval.

RIISING GENERATION JAZZING TO HELL

Father Degen, Leicester, Eng.
Warns that the Sooner Old
Fashioned Chaparon Idea
Is Revived the Better

(By International News Service)
LONDON, March 3.—Father Degen of Leicester, the Roman Catholic priest who has aroused such interest in his denouncing of certain crazes has now devoted his attention to dancing.

"Dancing," he says, "is a spontaneous expression of joy. It promotes sociability, and is conducive to good health and deportment."

He then sounds the warning note. "But mixed public dancing, where the dancers are strangers, is fraught with danger, even if the dances are shorn of the passionate and freakish movements."

"If no one cries 'halt,'" Father Degen continues, after deploring the escorting home of the girls by their latest admirers, "the rising generation, with its feeble hold upon dogmatic religious truths, and its flexible moral code, will jazz itself straight into hell."

The priest regrets that couples include themselves from the body of the dance hall, and that "the frail, flimsy, daring attire" evokes impertinences from the sort of man who boasts that he is "a bit of a bouncer."

"There are those," adds the priest, "who hold that the chaparon idea is dead and buried. The sooner, however, it is revived the better."

Meanwhile Father Degen continues to receive protests from Leicester girls, who are up in arms against his statement that some young ladies in Leicester are "modern Circes and Jezebels" and "powdered and bejeweled harlots."

The small boy went with his class to visit the zoo. He stopped in front of the kangaroo cage, and after studying the queer animals for awhile, he asked the attendant what they were. Historic Scenes to Mark Building of New Mission

One Hundred Indians Under Direction of Brown-robed Priests
To Build Massive Adobe Walls—Great Pageant
at Consecration in June

Moorish Style of Architecture
Architecturally, the new mission will resemble the Mission San Luis Rey, which is now in ruins and which was more typically Moorish than any of the other missions built in California. It will be built by native Indians under the direction of Franciscan Padres, following as faithfully as is practicable the methods employed in the construction of the other missions a hundred years ago.

Indians to Build as of Old
Adobe for the walls and red tiles for the roof will be baked from clay obtained in the near-by Verdugos. One hundred Indians assembled from the California reservations will be employed in the building. In all other respects the construction of the mission will follow historic lines. Timber for the great cross will be hewn from trees high up in Big Tujunga Canyon and borne on the shoulders of the Indians to its resting place in the mission's consecrated soil. It is hoped that one of the prominent features that jut out from the Verdugos into the valley near the mission site may be secured and that the great cross may be raised thereon, making it one of the most conspicuous landmarks, visible from all highways, for miles in every direction.

"DRYS" ACTIVE IN BOMBAY
Mohammedans in Bombay have started an anti-drinking campaign to "reform" their co-religionists. They are picketing the liquor shops, and the Moslems found coming out have their faces blackened and are marched through the streets. One man found drunk was decked with a "garland" of old shoes and was taken around the city by an escort bearing empty oil tins.—London Mail.

MARRIED LIFE A FAILURE? NOT FOR THIS COUPLE

(By International News Service)
LINCOLN, Neb., March 3.—Is married life a failure? Not according to Daniel and Mary Reneker, who live in perfect peace and harmony in their little cabin near Mt. Zion, Ia. They have given married life a more thorough trial than any other couple in the country and pronounce it a success, positively and absolutely. Daniel and Mary Reneker should know whereof they speak, too, for they have been married for 75 years, and for all that space of time they have lived in the same homestead.

In 1846 the bride and bridegroom left the little Ohio town where they were wed to "go west." They floated down the Ohio river to the "Father of Waters," and then turned their course north. Into the wilderness they plunged, and the stalwart husband cleared a piece of land he purchased for a dollar an acre and built the house which they have always occupied. And in spite of all hardships, as the fairy book says, "they lived happy ever after." Daniel Reneker is 99 years old and his wife is 97 years of age. They have four sons living, the eldest 72 and the "baby," Dr. John Reneker, is 54 years old, a member of the Nebraska State Legislature.

Seventy-five years ago—and it seems like yesterday to the loving couple—they began married life in their little home "and let the rest of the world go by."

When informed that their wages were to be cut from 25 to 30 per cent, more than 1000 garment workers in Baltimore suspended work.
